Creation: Man

All things are thought; all life is thought activity. The multitude of beings are but phases of the one great thought made manifest. So, God is Thought, and Thought is God.

Eternal Thought is one, in essence it is two - Intelligence and Force; and when they breathe a child is born, this child is Love.

And thus the Triune God stands forth, whom men called Father Mother-Child.

This Triune God is one; but like the one of Light, in essence he is seven. And when the Triune God breathes forth, he, seven Spirits stand before his face, these are creative attributes.

Men call them lesser gods, and in their image they made man. Man was a thought of God, formed in the image of the Septinate, clothed with substance of soul.

And his desires were strong; he sought to manifest on every plane of life, and for himself he made a body of the ethers of the faithful form, and so descended to the plane of earth. In this descent he lost his birthright; lost his harmony with God, and made discordant all the notes of life. In harmony and evil are the same, so evil is the handiwork of man.

Seeds do not germinate in light; they do not grow until they find the soil, and hide themselves away from the light. Man was evolved a seed of everlasting life; but in the ethers of the Triune God the light was far too great for the seeds to grow; and so man sought the soil of carnal life, and in the darknessness of earth he found a place where he could germinate and grow. The seed has taken root and has grown full well. The tree of human life is rising from the soil of earthly things and under natural law is reaching up to perfect. from there are no supernatural acts

of God to lift a man from carnal life
to spirit blessedness; he grows as grows the plant, and in due time
is perfected.

→ the quality of soul that makes it possible for man to rise to spirit
life is purity
